世界贸易组织与全球公共卫生治理----以TRIPS协定为例

全文pdf下载

摘要:

WTO规范具有深刻的公共卫生含义。作为WTO的主要规范,《与贸易有关的知识产权协定》(TRIPS协定)对于全球公共卫生治理具有重要意义。尽管TRIPS协定中包含了出于公共卫生考量而规定的灵活措施,然而,WTO并非以公共卫生为导向,其中所存在的结构性矛盾和缺陷决定了WTO对于发展中国家的公共卫生而言是弊大于利。鉴于我国目前面临的公共卫生危机和正在酝酿的医疗体制改革,我国应勇于利用WTO规范中的灵活性条款,提高药品的可获得性,从而促进我国的公共卫生治理,这本身也是对全球公共卫生治理的重要贡献。

Implementation of Education Policy in the Period of New Politics of Qing Dynasty

Abstract:

Regulations stipulated by WTO have significant implications to public health. As one normative pillar of WTO,TRIPS is of great importance to global public health governance. Although some flexible measures are made out of the considerations for public health,WTO is not public health oriented,and structural contradictions and drawbacks remain unsettled in these relevant regulations,which often render WTO deleterious rather than beneficial to developing countries in terms of public health governance. Given the public health crises faced by China and the reform of the health care system in the country,China is well positioned to make use of the flexibilities so as to promote the accessibility of drugs,which will contribute to public health governance nationally and globally as well.
