Organic agricu one of aspects multifunctiona agriculture

Agric. Econ. – Czech, 51

The incorporation of Czech sector in the Common Agricultural Policy of the EU means also the so called "European Model of Multifunctional Agriculture" which reacts to the requirement of socially based sustainable agriculture with its focus on maintenance and an im the European agricultural landscape. In connection with the strategy of agrarian policy according to which the orientation of the Czech agrarian sector changed the principal way, which was formerly not only on the production but also its other functions became important, above all in the
