

ScholarWorks@UMass Amherst

ANTHROPOLOGY DEPARTMENT FACULTY PUBLICATION SERIES

Title

From Democratization to Globalization to Justice : Political Generations in Hungarian Environmentalism from the 1980s to the 2000s

Authors

Krista Harper, University of Massachusetts - Amherst Follow

Publication Date

April 2009

Journal or Book Title

György Ránki Symposium on Hungarian Studies

Abstract

This presentation applies sociologist Nancy Whittier's concept of "political generations" to explore political identities and strategies appearing over time in the Hungarian environmental movement. I discuss the rise of democratic environmentalism in the 1980s, the shift to a more professionalized and globally oriented activist stance in the 1990s, and the emergence of social justice frames associated with the newest cohort of environmental activists of the 2000s.

Recommended Citation

Harper, Krista, "From Democratization to Globalization to Justice : Political Generations in Hungarian Environmentalism from the 1980s to the 2000s " (2009). György Ránki Symposium on Hungarian Studies. 76.
https://scholarworks.umass.edu/anthro_faculty_pubs/76/

Download

DOWNLOADS

Since December 07, 2009

Included in

Eastern European Studies Commons , Environmental Policy Commons , Nature and Society Relations Commons , Place and Environment Commons , Politics and Social Change Commons , Public Policy Commons , Social and Cultural Anthropology Commons

Share

COinS