CALL FOR PAPERS

ICCS2008

6th International Conference of Cognitive Science

July 27-29, 2008

Yonsei University, Seoul, Korea

We are pleased to announce that the 6th International Conference of Cognitive Science (ICCS 2008) will be held back in Korea from July 27th through 29th, 2008, eleven years after its first meeting in Korea. Following the previous conferences held in Korea (1997), Japan (1999), China (2001), Australia (2003) and Canada (2006), ICCS2008 aims at being a forum for international researchers to present their works in the area of, or related to, cognitive science.

We solicit interested researchers to submit works pursuing a scientific understanding of the mind through all available methodologies, notably those of aesthetics, anthropology, artificial intelligence, computer science, education, linguistics, learning sciences, logic, neuroscience, philosophy, and psychology, or any other disciplines insofar as it is deemed to be of interest to those who pursue the study of the structure of the mind, through any other newly developing methodologies that are most appropriate to promote cognitive science.

Any suggestions or plans for workshops or special meetings that will form part of ICCS2008 should be addressed to the chairman of the program committee as soon as possible.

Plenary speakers

David Chalmers (ANU): Extending the Mind into the World

A Japanese cognitive neuroscientist in contact

Gary Libben (Toronto U) On the issue of Mental Lexicon (in contact) and a few more in search

Deadlines

Workshop proposals: March 15, 2008 (the sooner the better - with the organizer's name, title and tentative number of presenters and at least a few representative prospective presenters). One workshop on quantification has been proposed by a group of Japanese linguists including Kei Yoshimoto (Tohoku) together with scholars from other countries and another one is just under construction by an American team including Daeyeol Lee (Yale).
Paper and poster abstracts: March 15, 2008 (2-page, 12-point, Word and PDF default margins, including crucial data and selected references, anonymously) with separate Author Info page, specifying:

1. Title, 2. Authors, 3. Affiliation (faculty, postdoc, or student), and 4. e-mail address + phone number, 5. oral paper only or poster possible or poster only.

Acceptance will be notified by April 1, 2008; Full paper in camera-ready form, 2-column, 4 pages, 12-point, Word and PDF default margins, by May 20, 2008.

All submissions to <http://iccs.yonsei.ac.kr> but to iccskorea@gmail.com (particularly workshop proposals; if urgent, to clee@snu.ac.kr <<mailto:clee@snu.ac.kr>>) before construction.
