

The second force Renaissance a changing outlook on life God-centered world was even the authority of the Bible were challenged by the great progress in natural and social science The development of technology was pushed the third force Europe in the 16th and 17th century