

- | | | | | | | |
|----------------|-------------------|-----------------------|---------|---------------|----------|-------|
| People | Graduate Programs | Undergraduate Program | Courses | News & Events | Programs | Links |
| Administration | Contact | | | | | |

Search

This Site

HOME People Literature Faculty Margaret Loose

Margaret Loose

Ph.D. (University of Iowa)

Assistant Professor - English Literature

Primary Office: LIT 445

Primary Phone: (858) 534-8690 (ANS MACHINE)

Email: mloose@ucsd.edu

Spring 2014 Course Descriptions

Teaching and research interests in Victorian literature and culture; working-class literature; poetry and poetics; Chartism; gender studies; and the novel

Professor Loose received her Ph.D. in English from the University of Iowa (2006) and MA degrees in English from the Universities of Iowa (Victorian Lit) and South Carolina (Romantic Lit). She also earned a BS degree in Biology from Wofford College in Spartanburg, South Carolina. She has taught a variety of courses ranging from Narrative Literature and Women & Literature to Greek Myth & Civilization and Gender & Sexuality in Ancient Greece & Rome.

