

Peter T. Marsh

Professor Emeritus, History

Degree

Ph.D., University of Cambridge, 1962

Specialties

19th/20th century Britain, international political economy

Publications

Joseph Chamberlain, Entrepreneur in Politics (London and New Haven: Yale University Press, 1994), pp. xvii and 725.

Editor and Contributor, Contesting the Boundaries of Liberal and Professional Education (Syracuse: Syracuse University Press, 1988), pp. xii and 275.

The Discipline of Popular Government: Lord Salisbury's domestic statecraft, 1881-1902 (Hassocks, Sussex, and Atlantic Highlands, NJ: Harvester Press and the Humanities Press, 1978. Republished by Gregg Revivals, 1993), pp. x and 373.

Editor and Contributor, The Conscience of the Victorian State (Hassocks, Sussex, and Syracuse: Harvester Press and Syracuse University Press, 1979), pp. x and 257

The Victorian Church in Decline: Archbishop Tait and the Church of England, 1868-1882

(London and Pittsburgh: Routledge & Kegan Paul and University of Pittsburgh Press, 1969), pp. x and 344

Teaching Appointments

Honorary Professor of History, University of Birmingham

Leverhulme Fellow, in association with the University of Birmingham, 1996-97

President, Middle Atlantic States Conference on British Studies, 1994-96

Coordinator, Maxwell Undergraduate Teaching Grant ($4,000,000) for courses on "Global Community" and "Current Issues in the United States," 1992-

Professor of International Relations, Syracuse University, 1992-

Resident Chair, Syracuse University Program in Florence, 1987 and 1988

Designer and Director, Andrew W. Mellon Foundation project ($300,000 grant) for Integration of Liberal and Professional Education, 1984-86

Director, University Honors Program, Syracuse University, 1978-86

Professor of History, Syracuse University, 1978-

Visiting Professor of Victorian Studies, University of Leicester, 1970

Chair, Department of History, Syracuse University, 1968-70

Associate Professor of History, Syracuse University, 1967-78

Visiting Tutor, University of Sussex, 1966

Instructor and Assistant Professor of History, University of Saskatchewan, 1962-67

Research Interests

Modern British history, international political economy.

Follow Maxwell at:

Contact Information

ptmarsh@powernet.co.uk

145 Eggers Hall 443-2210