News From the Field

Closest, brightest supernova in decades is also a little weird

February 27, 2014

A bright supernova discovered only six weeks ago in a nearby galaxy is provoking new questions about the exploding stars that scientists use as their main yardstick for measuring the universe.

The National Science Foundation (NSF) is an independent federal agency that supports fundamental research and education across all fields of science and engineering. In fiscal year (FY) 2014, its budget is $7.2 billion. NSF funds reach all 50 states through grants to nearly 2,000 college universities and other institutions. Each year, NSF receive about 50,000 competitive requests for funding, and make about 11,500 new funding awards. NSF also awards about $593 million in professional and service contracts yearly.
