

Welcome to Arumpo Bentonite

Arumpo Bentonite Pty Ltd is a world class Bentonite deposit with indicated reserves of 70 million tonnes.

The Arumpo deposit has been recognised as the largest in Australia and is strategically located in the Murray Basin.

The mine is situated in the southwest corner of NSW, 95km north-east of Mildura, Victoria a major regional centre and is ideally located between the major capital cities of Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide.