

ASLO

Association for the Sciences of Limnology and Oceanography

Home Members Libraries Publications Meetings Employment Activi

Search for L&O Editor in Chief

After 16 years of service to ASLO, Everett Fee and Lucille Doucette are stepping down, effective February 2015, as Editor-in-Chief and Managing Editor of Limnology and Oceanography. The ASLO Board of Directors will be starting a search immediately for the position of Editor-in-Chief and plan to fill it during the summer of 2014. Any ASLO members with editorial experience interested in the exciting challenge of taking the helm of one of aquatic science's premiere journals should answer the call for applications and nominations!

ASLO Image Library

The Image Library provides a collection of images contributed by ASLO members for use in educational activities. Enjoy browsing!

What is Limnology?

Limnology deals with lakes, reservoirs, rivers, streams, wetlands, and groundwater as ecological systems. Browse the website to learn more!

ASLO International

In 2012 ASLO met on the shores of Lake Biwa, Japan. The ASLO website includes presentation summaries, and videos from Lake Biwa and more than a dozen past meetings. Our next international meeting will be held 22-27 February 2015, in Grenada, Spain.

Student Opportunities

Announcements of opportunities for students including internships, fellowships, scholarships and assistantships.

 Visit and talk with over 1100 ASLO members on our Facebook Group!

ASLO Election 2014!

In Spring 2014, voting will be for the President-Elect, Treasurer, one Student Board Member, and four Members-at-Large. The election closes on 30 May 2014.

14 February 2014

Members Only: The new

Bulletin issue is online!

The latest must-read issue of the Limnology and Oceanography Bulletin contains profiles of ASLO's partner societies; several articles about education, outreach, science and the public; meeting news; and news from the ASLO Board.

10 February 2014

Joint Aquatic Sciences

Meeting Abstract

Submissions

18-23 May, 2014

Portland, OR