Translational Control

September 6 - 10, 2016

Abstract Deadline: June 17, 2016

Organizers:

Thomas Dever, National Institutes of Health

Joel Richter, University of Massachusetts Medical School

Marina Rodnina, Max Planck Institute for Biophysical Chemistry, Germany

You are cordially invited to participate in the fifteenth conference on Translational Control to be held at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory. The first session of the meeting will start at 7:30 pm on Tuesday, September 6, and the final session will end around lunch on Saturday, September 10. Dinner is included before the first session, and breakfast and lunch are included Saturday, September 10. As currently planned, the program will have eight sessions devoted to oral presentations, together with three poster sessions for presentations which cannot be accommodated in the formal sessions. Selection of talks for the oral sessions will be made by the organizers in conjunction with the session chairpersons, from the submitted abstracts.

Topics and Session Chairs:
