Shanghai August 2009

The 15th International Symposium on the Biology of Actinomycetes (ISBA'15) will be held in Shanghai, China during 20-25 August, 2009. The ISBA-series symposia, first organized in 1968 in Jena, Germany and convened every two or three years in different countries, have been recognized as the premier international conferences in the rapidly growing field of actinomycetes research. The celebratory party recognizing Mike Goodfellow's retirement and David and Joyce Hopwood's 76th birthday was held as a special event of the Symposium.

Welcome to Shanghai for a most interesting assembly!
