Forests and Communities in Transition \(FACT\)

Africa Forests Research Initiative on Conservation and Development \(AFRICAD\)

My research and teaching interests revolve around sustainable business management practices and issues and providing solutions to complex problems related to sustainable development, forestry, wood products and the emerging conservation economy.

Current research interests include:

- forest-dependent communities in transition
- international development & poverty alleviation
- value-added strategies
- forest certification & corporate social responsibility
- forest sector sustainability & competitiveness
- marketing, management & consumer behaviour

Post Doctoral Fellows and Research Assistants

Dr Reem Hajjar (FACT)

Dr Joleen Timko (AFRICAD)

Current Courses

Winter 2013

WOOD465 Wood Industry Business Management Sections

Business management concepts common in the forest products industry including marketing, customer research, product development and design.

FRST231 Introduction to Biometrics Sections

Basic theories of probability and statistics. Sampling distribution, methods of estimation and hypothesis testing; goodness of fit and tests for independence; analysis of variance, regression and correlation.
