

... et cetera.

In the beginning of the year, the first 600 Chinese characters were selected, and the remaining 940 characters were added to the character set. The entire Chinese character set was completed by the end of 1987. This is a major achievement, and it is also a significant contribution to the development of Chinese information technology.

