

Welcome to African Plant Protection
21 issues (1995 - 2007)

African Plant Protection provides a unique forum for research in the plant protection sciences, and promotes African authorship and/or contents.

The journal is multidisciplinary, and includes original research and review articles, both basic and applied, in the pest management of crops and plants. The journal supports primary scientific articles, technical reports, short communications and review articles.

Agricultural Research Council Website

Subscribe to the latest online issues on SA ePublications

Do a quick search:

Browse through the collection.

Advanced Search - Search collection using more options, making your searches more precise.