The exponential growth of technology and new scientific research is changing dating, mating and reproduction more dramatically and rapidly than ever before.

It is now possible to decode romantic chemistry, marry a digital spouse, handpick your best embryo. Science has gone further than you think...

From a leading evolutionary biologist, Robert Trivers, to New York City's fertility guru, Jamie Grifo, to a cutting-edge researcher at Stanford University's virtual reality lab, Nick Yee, we had the experts weigh in.

Read, watch and listen to uncover the possibilities...
