

UQ researcher awarded top honour of the Dietitians Association of Australia

8 June 2012

University of Queensland's Associate Professor of Nutrition and Dietetics, Judy Bauer, has been awarded the prestigious Fellow of Dietitians Association of Australia (DAA) status.

Associate Professor Bauer was presented the award at the DAA Annual General Meeting in Sydney recently, making her the 7th Fellow to be appointed from the Association's 4800 members.

Best known for her work in cancer nutrition and malnutrition, Associate Professor Bauer has been involved in developing evidence-based practice guidelines for dietitians in the nutritional management of cachexia, radiation therapy, malnutrition and most recently head and neck cancer.

DAA President Julie Dundon described Judy as 'a leading practising dietitian and nutrition researcher.'

"She is a worthy appointment as a Fellow of DAA, which is the top honour of our Association," Julie Dundon said.

"I am very honoured to receive the Fellow credential from the DAA and would like to acknowledge the contribution of many colleagues who continue to provide inspiration and support," Associate Professor Bauer said.

A UQ science graduate Associate Professor Bauer gained her PhD in 2003. She has published more than 70 scientific papers, two book chapters and has mentored other dietitians, including six students who have since completed their PhD. As a principal/co-investigator she has attracted over $2.3M in competitive grant funding in the past 10 years.

Associate Professor Bauer has been a member of DAA since 1984 and has served on the DAA Board from 1989-1992 and again from 2004-2009. She is currently Supplement Editor of Nutrition & Dietetics, the scientific journal of the DAA and Dietitians New Zealand.

She is also a member of the Australian Dietetic Council, which accredits nutrition and dietetics university courses in Australia, and a member of the Clinical Oncology Society of Australia Council.

She was the first allied health professional in Queensland to be awarded a Smart State Fellowship in 2005, and awarded an Outstanding Contribution award by DAA in 2007.

Together with her colleagues, Associate Professor Bauer received the Association's 2009
