

Journal of Cryptology

The Journal of Cryptology is the official journal of the International Association for Cryptologic Research, and provides a forum for publication of original results in all areas of modern information security. It started with volume 1 in 1988, and currently consists of four issues per year. It is published by Springer. IACR members receive a subscription to the Journal of Cryptology. Subscriptions are available to non-members directly from Springer (see below).

- The Journal Home Page at Springer
- On-line access for IACR members is available via the IACR Reading Room at Springer. On-line access for others is available via the SpringerLink service.
- Submission guidelines
- The editorial board
- Guidelines for referees
- A partial table of Contents and index of papers compiled for IACR. Other online bibliographies are:
 - DBLP Computer Science Bibliography
 - TeX User Group bibliography archive
- Information on back issues or non-member subscriptions is available in the U.S. at:
Springer-Verlag, New York Office
Springer
233 Spring Street
New York, NY 10013
USA
Email: `service(at)springer-ny.com`
Tel: +1 212-460-1500 (within the US: 1-800-SPRINGER)
For other countries, please visit <http://www.springeronline.com/>.