The Global Land Project (GLP) invites you to join its network and get involved!

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to inform you that the joint IGBP-IHDP Global Land Project (GLP) website is now fully functional on www.globallandproject.org. The Global Land Project represents the joint research effort of IGBP (International Geosphere-Biosphere Programme) and IHDP (International Human Dimensions Programme on Global Environmental Change) to improve the understanding of land system dynamics in the context of Earth System functioning. The website includes the GLP science plan, details on how to get involved by applying for endorsement of projects, as well as a database entry form where you can sign up to be part of the GLP network and receive information such as newsletters.

We aim to re-connect researchers that were active in the predecessor projects to GLP (GCTE - Global Change and Terrestrial Ecosystems and LUCC - Land Use/Cover Change) by:

- a) Making them aware that GLP is now fully functional (including endorsement of projects) with an International Project Office (IPO) in Copenhagen/Denmark, and
- b) Asking people to sign up on our webpage to create an up to date directory of people who have an interest in, or a desire to be associated with, research as described in the GLP science plan (http://www.globallandproject.org/report\_53.pdf).

We will NOT contact you again using this email list, unless you sign up on our webpage. If you sign up to be part of the GLP network you will receive 2 newsletters per year, as well as a very limited number of email-updates with relevant news and information.

Please forward this email to your colleagues/networks that might be interested!

With best regards and hopes for future cooperation
