

AROUND CORNELL

News directly from Cornell's colleges and centers

Creating tech to improve workplace diversity, inclusion

By Kathy Hovis

January 30, 2023

The 18th episode of a podcast hosted by Entrepreneurship at Cornell, Startup Cornell, features Natalie Egan '02 (she/her), founder of Translator Inc., a startup that builds diversity, equity and inclusion software for corporations, schools and nonprofits.

Egan is an award-winning serial entrepreneur, thought leader and regular speaker at industry conferences around the world, including last year's South by Southwest Conference. She launched her business to combine technology with content and people-first facilitated conversations to help companies create a more diverse and inclusive culture.

The Startup Cornell podcast, which launched in summer 2021, features interviews with young Cornell entrepreneurs, who tell their stories of successes and failures and offer actionable advice for building and growing a business. It's available on the Entrepreneurship at Cornell website, as well as Apple podcasts, Spotify and Soundcloud. It's being created with help from Bert Odom-Reed of the Cornell Broadcast Studios and edited by Abigail Younger.

Past guests have included Julie and Alexander Littauer both MBA '20, co-founders of Sovi Wine, David Stein MBA '20, co-founder and CEO of Ash Wellness and Aziza Glass D.V.M. '15, owner of Personal Touch Veterinary Clinic and a star on the Disney XD and Hulu show "Roman to the Rescue."

Business, Economics & Entrepreneurship

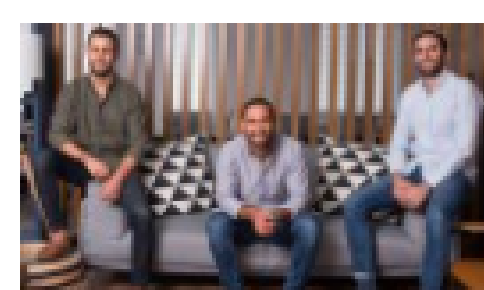

MEDIA INQUIRIES ▾

Get Cornell news delivered right to your inbox.

SUBSCRIBE

YOU MIGHT ALSO LIKE

Who is Horatio and why should you hire him?

Sovi Wine founders share story on Startup Cornell

LINKS

About the Chronicle
Media Relations Office
Sitemap
Copyright
Web Accessibility Assistance
University Relations

CONTACT

Cornell Chronicle
 312 College Ave
 Ithaca, NY 14850
607-255-4206
cunews@cornell.edu

SUBSCRIBE

Daily and weekly newsletters
Feeds - RSS & JSON